

The Megnajet Colour Cube range of ink delivery systems is designed to have a greater scope for configurability and component commonality than our existing range of products, whilst still providing OEMs and integrators with stable, reliable and scalable industrialised fluid control functionality. Like most of our ranges, the Colour Cube is available in gravity and recirculation configurations. However, for the first time, the Colour Cube also offers the possibility to run multiple fluids within a single unit using the Multi Tank Modular build design, to provide our most compact multi-colour solution yet.

Available in Standard and Customised versions

For further details, please contact us via our website or the email address below.

www.Megnajet.com

enquiry@megnajet.com